

Dave Van Nice's Magic Slippery Stuff

Hey, Gang. I have developed a formula using the pictured components for making your own very slippery, long-lasting arrow lube. I bought the Tire Wet Gel at Walmart for about $7.00. The Super Lube silicone oil I got on Amazon for about $4.00. If you use an empty, or nearly empty, Woody's bottle, fill it to about 1/4" from the top with the Tire Wet Gel; then top it off with the silicone oil. Shake it up to mix it, then apply as necessary.

I only apply it to the point end of the arrow with a single swipe about 1" long. This stuff is SLIPPERY! So use it sparingly. Depending on butt conditions, I usually get 4 - 5 ends per application. Your results may vary. Cheers.
